ok. let me know if what she's suggesting makes sense, and if you need any help.

I called her - she said she sent an email but she didn't. I told her so this am and she said "weird" I'll send it again. and she hasn't yet. I think it might be some language to accompany the letter - when I send it to the reporter - not sure.

Hey - Kate was looking for me - she said she sent me an email - I didn't get one - I just checked - I left for the day to go work out - I'll send her a note that I didn't get it but just in case. I have not sent the letter to the reporter yet - I wanted to give some time for the state to get it.
